Mills, Camilli Arraigned in Romulus

by Dave Atkins

At 12 p.m. on August 18, two men, Vester Lee Mills and James Joseph Camilli, both of Brownstown Township, were arraigned on charges for the attempted murder of Kristen Grauman, who was set on fire last June 24.

Romulus police detectives Snyder and Poe said that, prior to the incident,

Mills and Camilli apparently had been involved in some sort of dispute at another location, which resulted in their car windows being broken out. They allegedly left that area, purchased some gasoline, and were returning to the scene of the altercation when they stopped Grauman and asked for directions. Since she was headed in the same direction as the two men, they offered her a ride. When they passed the street where she wanted to get out, she evidently became frightened and attempted to leave the car through the back window. According to Detective Poe, it appears that it was then that gasoline was thrown on her and she was set on fire.

Toni Grauman, the victim's mother, said that her daughter Kristen had been a crack addict for the last three years, but had recently said that she was going to admit herself into a hospital for

Charged with attempted murder, Vester Lee Mills broke down in tears before the judge, and continued crying as he was led out of the courtroom.

Head erect, shoulders back, James Joseph Camilli strides from the courtroom showing no apparent remorse about the crime he is accused of committing.

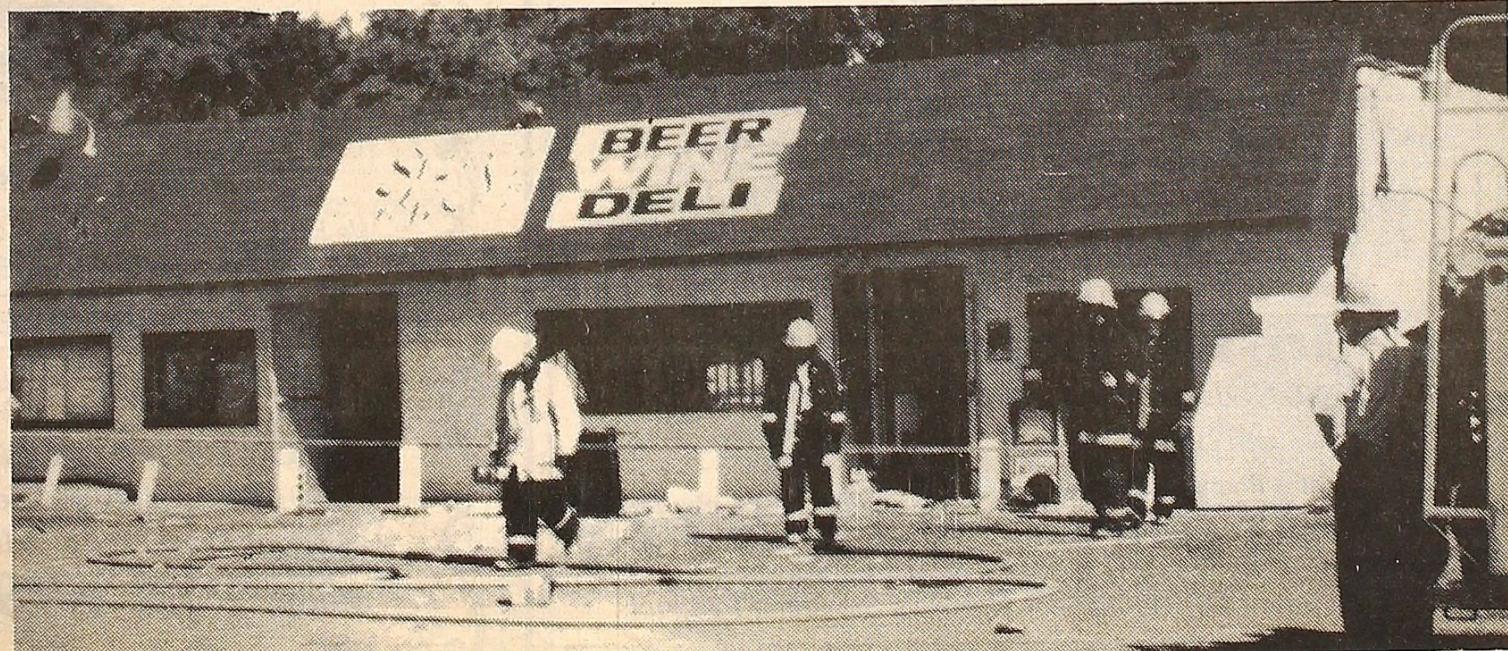

Explosion at Jo Jo's Causes Damage, No Injuries

Romulus Party Store Bombed

by Dave Atkins

No, my friends, it definitely was not a bomb threat. It was a real bomb that went off at Jo Jo's Party Store around 10 a.m. on August 21. The most amazing thing about the incident was that no one was killed — in fact, no one was even hurt.

The damage was considerable: a portion of the roof was blown off, and the interior of the store looked like the aftermath of World War III. Though the police would not allow me to get close enough to the building to get pictures of the inside, I did get a clear glimpse of much of the debris, including parts of the cash register scattered all over the floor (most of the money was still in the cash drawer, though). Luckily,

How Many 'D's in Dixie?

by Dave Atkins

I heard a cute little joke the other day that I thought I would pass along to you. I hope you enjoy it as much as I did.

A certain fifth-grade teacher, who was having trouble with one of her students, decided to assign the boy some rather difficult, tricky homework, hoping that it would stimulate his thinking.

"Young man," she said, "your homework assignment for this evening is to figure out how many days of the week begin with 'T,' how many seconds there are in a year, and how many 'D's there are in 'Dixie.' I'll expect your answers first thing in the morning."

Once home, the boy sat down at his little desk and began contemplating the difficult tasks that had been set for him. Soon his brow was creased with worry, and he stayed up late into the night before he completed his assignment.

In the morning, the very first thing that his teacher did was to call him to the front of the classroom to recite his lesson.

"First of all," the teacher said, "tell the class how many days of the week begin with the letter 'T'."

"Two," he answered, but his teacher's congratulatory smile faded when he added, "Today and tomorrow."

Upon reflection, however, the teacher concluded that the young man's answer was a clever one, and entirely correct, even if it wasn't the one she had anticipated.

"Very good," she told him. "Now, tell the class how many seconds are in a year."

"Well, teacher," he said, "that question was a little harder, but I figured it out pretty quickly. There are 12 seconds in a year."

"What?" she asked, amazed. "How in the world did you come up with only 12 seconds in an entire year?"

The boy replied, "It wasn't really that difficult. There's January second, February second, . . ."

The teacher thought about it, and realized that this answer, too, was a valid one. She began to think that her little pupil might be pretty bright after all.

"That's fine," she said. "Let's see if you got the answer to my final question. How many 'D's are in Dixie?"

Since the young man had answered the other two questions so easily, the teacher thought sure that he would have no problem with the last one. She was shocked, therefore, when the boy replied, "Well, the nearest I can figure is about 252."

"How could you possibly arrive at such a large number?" she asked him.

"Actually," he smiled, "I just started counting as I sang: 'De de-de de de de-de de-de de de de . . .'" and he continued to hum "Dixie" under his breath as he returned to his seat. □ judge bind over the two defendants for the attempted murder of her daughter.

Toni Grauman is the mother of 19-year-old Kristen Grauman, who was doused with gasoline and set on fire in Romulus the night of June 24 after accepting a ride from the two defendants, Vester Lee Mills and his father-in-law, James Joseph Camilli.

After the courtroom had been cleared, one reporter asked Mrs. Grauman how she felt as the judge read the defendants their rights and bound them over to circuit court. "I wanted to jump that wall and get my hands around their throats," she said. "They are scum to do this to a 19-year-old kid. One day, they will answer to God, not just a court of law, for what they have done."

Mrs. Grauman still appeared to be very calm as she talked to television, radio, and newspaper reporters. She never once looked like she would break down. She kept repeating, "I think she's gonna make it; she has a lot of grit and she's made a lot of progress. She will never be like she once was — never."

When asked why this would have happened to her daughter, she said she had no idea. When asked if she thought it may have been a drug-related incident, she replied, "That's a possibility. She had been on crack for three years, but was trying to get clean. She had planned on going to the hospital for rehab." She said that Kristen had not left home for three days before the incident, but then her birthday came up. She evidently had been to the house of some friends when she was picked up by the two men and set on fire.

"It's insanity!" she exclaimed. "She didn't know them, and they didn't know her. This whole thing has been a nightmare. The people who did this to my daughter are lower than animals, and should not be allowed on the streets."

When asked what she thought about one of the accused men, Mills, breaking down and crying, she said, "He couldn't cry hard enough or long enough the rest of his life." The other man, Camilli, appeared to have no feelings of remorse about the girl and what had happened to her. Of course, in our judicial system, he is innocent unless a jury of his peers finds him guilty. That's the way our system works, and rightfully so.

Mrs. Grauman obviously was not impressed by Mills' tears; as for Camilli, she said, "I thought he was an arrogant s.o.b."

When one reporter asked Mrs. Grauman how long the men should be jailed if they are found guilty, she replied, "I think 250 years would be just great."

Mrs. Grauman said that Kristen is breathing on her own now, even though she still must communicate by moving her head or writing with a marker on paper. She is still in serious condition.

Addressing a question about what kind of teenager Kristen was prior to the incident, Mrs. Grauman said, "About average, I guess. She had her problems. She had tried marijuana, and later got hung up on crack for three years, but now I don't think she will ever touch crack again, especially after this." □

by Kathleen Conway, Project Director, Romulus Adolescent Health Advisory Committee

The Romulus Adolescent Health Advisory Committee recently received a $100,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Public Health to open a teen health center at Romulus Senior High School. After nearly two years of planning, the Committee submitted its proposal to the state health department in mid-June as part of a competitive process for funds. The Romulus teen health center request for funds was the only proposal awarded funding in the state.

The Romulus Community Schools Board of Education, at its April 24, 1989 meeting, had voted unanimously to place a teen health center at the high school and authorized the Advisory Committee to seek Michigan Department of Public Health funding to open the center. The RAHAC had received two planning grants from the MDPH to study the health needs and behaviors of Romulus adolescents and found significant need for low-cost, accessible health care for teens in the city.

The Advisory Committee is composed of school personnel, youth-serving agency representatives, parents, students, City representatives, community leaders and health department personnel. It is sponsored by Heritage Hospital-United Care, Inc., of Taylor, which serves as the fiduciary agent to manage the grant money. Heritage Hospital-United Care, Inc. will continue to serve as fiduciary in the implementation of the teen health center in Romulus.

"We feel very proud of the work we've done over the past two years and are very excited about the potential of the health center to help Romulus adolescents," said RAHAC Chair, Evelyn Hopewell, a parent and a teacher at the high school. "It's obvious from the information we've gathered that there is a need for the center. It is also obvious from all of our work that the parents and community support the establishment of the center. We're very pleased that the Health Department has awarded us the funds to open the center in our school."

The teen health center will offer comprehensive medical, counseling and educational services. Parental consent will be required for all teens before they can use the center. No birth control services will be offered; no abortion services, counseling or referral will be offered. The center will service Romulus adolescents ages 11 to 19 and is also open to those who are not enrolled at the public school, attend area private schools, or are dropouts. A minimal fee will be charged for services; Medicaid and insurances will be accepted; and no one will be denied services if unable to pay. The Romulus teen health center will be open in January of 1990.

For further information, contact Kathleen Conway, RAHAC Project Director, at 941-1600, ext. 23. □

A Fat Body Story

My body tells me stories. Sometimes, they're nice little stories like, "Wow, there's nothing else you could be doing to make me feel better!" This story comes after a particularly hard day at work, when I'm finally in the shower, turning wonderfully limp, as each steaming droplet nuzzles my skin. Or, my body will simply say thanks as I crawl beneath the sheets, snuggle in, and close my eyes and lock them tight for the night.

But other times, folks, my body's stories aren't so nice. For instance, on a day after riding my bike a little too hard and a tad too long, the story's liable to be, "Hey, don't complain to me, buster! Our legs are stiff and sore, but it's your fault. Next time you feel energetic, sit on a block of ice!"

Over the past seven years, there's one horror story my body's been serving up to me, daily and unmercifully: "You're fat," it will say. "I don't need, or even want, a ton of donuts, a couple of shakes, and a pound of chips every day . . . and, while we're at it, why do you keep eating when I tell you we're full?"

Naturally, during those years, not wanting to hear this little ditty, I've been trying to shut my eyes, ears, and mind to this tale. Mostly, I succeeded. At times, though, I'd answer the accusation, saying something like, "Listen, what do you want? I'm large-boned, get it?"

My body would answer, "Listen, so is a horse; you know, an animal whose back you'd probably crunch with your 'large bones'."

"Well," I'd counter, "No one has ever told me I'm fat . . . what about that?"

Body: "Has anyone ever told you there's a piece of food clinging to your chin? Same principle, get it?"

So, about two months ago, I finally crumbled to this constant harassment. Making sure only I was home, I stripped to my shorts and, for my moment of truth, stood before a mirror (not the shoulders-only one in the bathroom, but the full-length tattletale hanging on the back of my sister's door). Cringing while looking straight on, and wincing at my profile, at last I admitted: yes, Tom, you are fat . . . and you'd best shed those 40 useless pounds before your heart tells you one last, sad story.

The next day, I went to a Weight Watchers meeting and joined. Walking in, I was trying to appear nonchalant and cool, but was acutely aware of about 25 pairs of eyes watching my every waddle. You see, men are a rarity at WW, although why is somewhat of a mystery. I suspect most men have a knee-jerk belief that weight-loss groups are women's territory only.

First of all, it's not so — through the weeks, I've run into quite a few other guys at the meetings. Second, an overweight man is as prone as his female counterpart to fat-induced medical problems . . . and that's everyone's ter-

Letters to the Editor

Sunday afternoon, a tragic accident occurred which affected the lives of many. Until it happened, a lot of us had not realized just how important friends really are.

Todd Hammon, a high school graduate from the class of 1989, was seriously injured in a diving accident that very easily could have taken his life. His condition remains critical, although he still has hope of recovery. His family and friends now realize how important it is to back Todd in his timely struggle for a change in his condition.

Todd often is described as a strong-willed young man. We hope that he realizes that all of his friends and the City of Romulus are behind him 100%.

We love you, Todd! We know you can come through this!

The friends of Todd Hammon

I attended the vigil on the hill for the family and friends of people killed on Flight 255, and was very touched by what I saw. People who had never met each other before August 16, 1987, were hugging and helping each other as they read off the names of their loved ones who had passed on (sometimes as many as six family members). Everything was orderly.

The next day, I read in The Romulus Roman that they had applied for a no-fee permit for the vigil, and that two Councilmen, Noah "Pete" Bergeron and Fred "Junior" Block, voted against their request. I wonder: if those two had been on that hill, and had seen how those people helped each other and shared things (their pain) that we know nothing about, would they have felt a little ashamed of themselves? Thank God we have five other Council people who still have their hearts. I would like to thank you.

Wayne County 4-H Auction a Big Success

by Debbie Rowsey and Joni Stachowski

The 1989 4-H Livestock Auction proved to be a successful one for the 4-H livestock kids, thanks to the many area businesses and individuals who gave generously of their time, support, and dollars. Now, the kids can look forward to continuing to improve and upgrade their market projects for next year.

This year's participants from Romulus were Cindy Bowles (A-Award for Market Hog), Willie Bowles (A-Award for Market Hog), Ron Carpenter (Grand Champion, Pen of Two Chickens; and Grand Champion, Pen of Three Rabbits), and John Van Assche (Reserve Grand Champion, Pen of Two Hogs).

The livestock kids work very hard throughout the year to raise some of the finest animals the County has seen. Each child spends many hours grooming and fitting his or her animal for exhibition. It takes plenty of time and effort, as well as lots of good management skills, to produce the leanest, meatiest animals.

Many of the livestock kids will go on to the Michigan State Fair and compete along with the finest producers and showmen in the State.

The Wayne County 4-H Livestock Committee and youth wish to applaud the following buyers for their support

MAIN EVENT

St. Aloysius

1989

Romulus Festival

September 1st — 4th

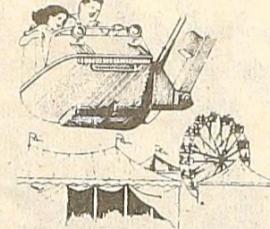

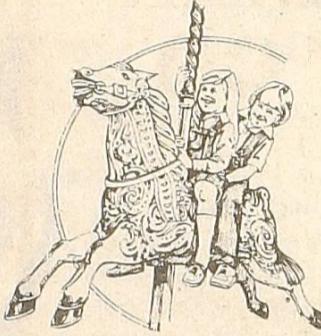

37200 NEVILLE • ROMULUS, MICHIGAN

1989 St. Aloysius Festival

The 1989 St. Aloysius Festival will be held September 1 through September 4 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church (37200 Neville), and the entire community is invited to attend the annual event. In addition to carnival rides, there will be plenty of other attractions for people of all ages to enjoy, so be sure to come down and join in the fun. A good time is guaranteed for all!

This year's St. Aloysius Festival promises to be better than ever, and a great deal of the credit should go to Festival Chairman Richard Dick. Richard continues to do an outstanding job filling a position that no one really wants, and his heroic efforts are appreciated by all. Keep up the good work, Richard!

Another person who deserves special thanks is the Advertising Chairman, Tony LaRoche, whose task of publicizing the event is essential to its success. With all of the work required, Tony has to get an early start on his job — in fact, he begins in February and continues through the Labor Day weekend. Thanks!

LAS VEGAS GAMES TENT

Doug Geersens, Bill Hess, and Bill Tatman, Co-Chairmen

Last year's Las Vegas Games chairmen are handling the job again this time, and all of these gentlemen have many years of experience dealing blackjack and working under the big tent. This year, there will be 10 blackjack tables and a "big six" wheel, and about 75 parishioners will be on hand over the weekend to keep things running smoothly. Betting varies from a minimum of $1.00 to a maximum of $5.00, with a maximum daily winnings limit of $500 per person. Remember that blackjack does pay double! (Of course, players must be at least 18 years old.)

The Las Vegas Tent will be open Friday from 7 p.m. to 12 a.m.; Saturday from 6 p.m. to 12 a.m., Sunday from 11 to 12 a.m., and Monday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

SPIRIT TENT

Dennis and Nancy Farmer, Co-Chairpersons

Once again, the Spirit Tent will be serving wine, wine coolers, and beer by the pitcher and cup. Like always, Spirit Tent workers are congenial, and they are always ready to serve you (as long as you are at least 21 years old).

GAMES AND ARCADE AREA

Anna Brougher, Chairperson

With a great deal of help from family, friends, and volunteers, Anna Brougher will be keeping the Games and Arcade Area running smoothly. This year, everyone is very excited about the new games for all those who are "young at heart." The Arcade, too, will have several new machines and games in addition to old favorites.

KITCHEN

Josephine Moleda and Vi Pawlowski, Co-Chairpersons

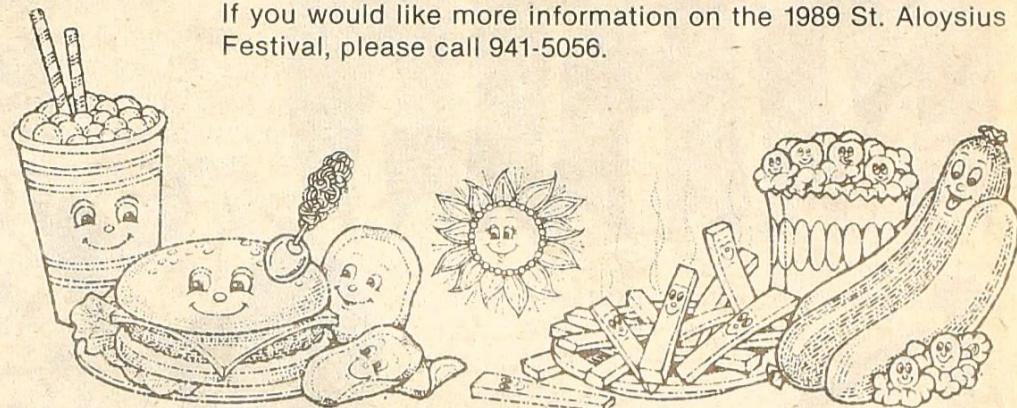

A lot of volunteers will be joining these two fine ladies in preparing delicious cafeteria-style dinners for Sunday and Monday. Sunday's dinner will consist of chicken, stuffing, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, tomatoes, cucumbers, rolls, dessert, and other delicious food — all for only $6 for adults, $3 for kids, and $1.50 for tots under five. Monday's offering will be spaghetti, salad, rolls, dessert, and Sunday's leftovers — all for only $4 for adults, $2 for kids, and $1 for tots under five. Remember: all of the food is homemade, including the pies!

DINING ROOM

Mary Ann Ryznar, Chairperson

Many of the volunteers who serve the 1,500 to 2,000 chicken dinners on Sunday and the 500 to 800 spaghetti dinners on Monday are students at St. Aloysius School, and they do a fantastic job. Chicken dinners will be served from 12 to 6 p.m. on Sunday; spaghetti dinners will be served from 1 to 6 p.m. on Monday.

If you would like more information on the 1989 St. Aloysius Festival, please call 941-5056.

HAMBURGER VILLA

Tony LaRoche and Chuck Shonta, Co-Chairmen

While you're out enjoying the festival, be sure to stop by the Hamburger Villa, where you'll find hamburgers, hot dogs, and kielbasa to satisfy your appetite, along with potato chips, coffee and pop to compliment the sandwiches.

Ray Blanchard, Chairman

Once again, a wide variety of bands will be providing free entertainment at the festival. On Friday, from 7 to 11 p.m., the Klancnik Brothers will perform; Heart and Soul will play Saturday from 7 to 11 p.m.; Sunday's bands will be the Polka Towners (from 2 to 6 p.m.) and the Tempo Tones (from 7 to 11 p.m.); and the Duane Malinowski Polka Jamboree will wrap up the festival's entertainment on Monday from 3 to 9 p.m. Come out, enjoy the music, and dance!

HOURLY 50/50 RAFFLE

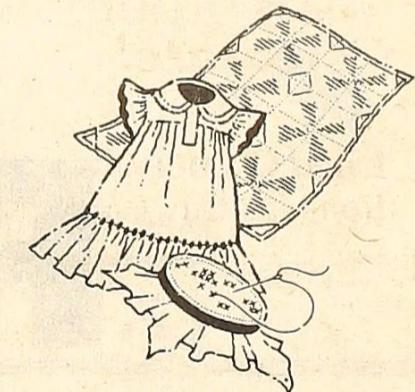

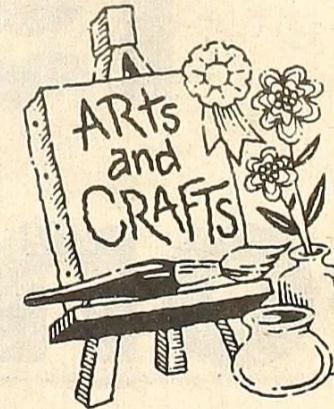

Alyce Foley, Chairperson

The Hourly 50/50 Raffle is purely a cash game. Alyce and her four or five helpers sell $1 raffle tickets for an hour, then place all the tickets into a drum and select one winner. The cash from that hour is pooled, with half going to the winner and half kept as funds raised. This is repeated every hour of the festival, so there are plenty of chances to win!

RAFFLE TICKET SALES

Richard Dick and Chuck Noel, Co-Chairmen

If you'd like a chance at the three giant money pots of $5,000, $1,500, and $500, be sure to buy one (or more!) of the $5 raffle tickets at this year's festival. Who knows? You could be a lucky winner!

CRAFTS & ICE CREAM

Karen Charkiewcz and Diane Zaleski, Co-Chairpersons

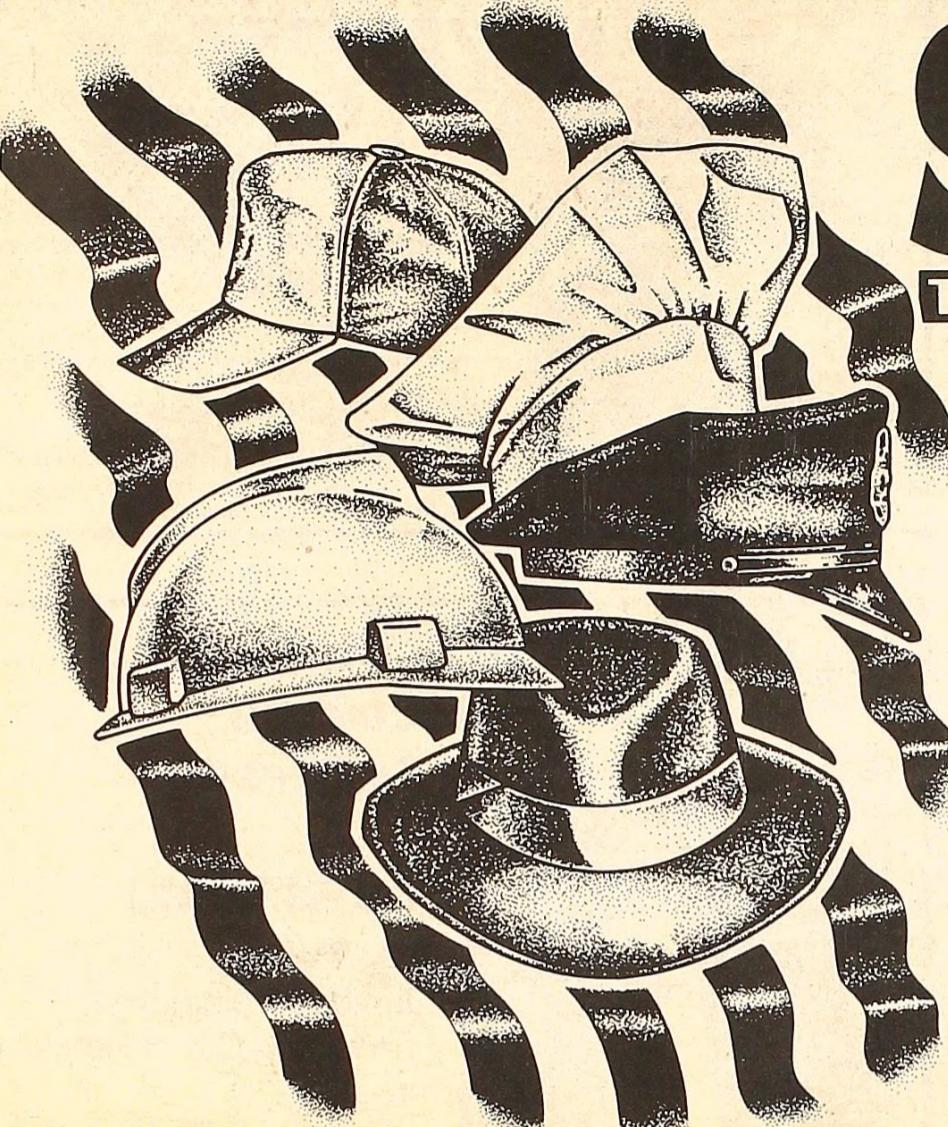

Get a jump on your Christmas shopping this year with a visit to the Crafts & Ice Cream building. You'll find a White Elephant Sale and a wide variety of crafts and baked goods, and you'll even be able to buy some ice cream (four or five flavors to choose from) to lick while you look.

BINGO

Mel Genaw and Alex McCraight, Co-Chairmen

Bingo is sponsored by the Gregorian Club, and all the proceeds from Bingo will be donated to the St. Aloysius School. Each Bingo game pays on a 50/50 basis (half of the income collected from each game is given away as prize money). The cards are two for a quarter each game.

Bingo will be open Friday from 6 p.m. to 12 a.m., Saturday from 4 p.m. to 12 a.m., Sunday from 12 p.m. to 12 a.m., and Monday from 12 to 9 p.m.

FAT BODY STORY

ritory! And, everybody, at some level of consciousness, wants to look their best with what they've got!

Enough pondering. Let me simply say WW works. In my first four weeks, I've unlocked 16 pounds, or one full-sized bowling ball. As you read this, I'll have another month under my sagging belt and, although I probably won't match my first month's progress, I know I'll have at least cracked the 20-pound mark, or one-half my goal.

The program works, at least for me, mainly because of the weekly meetings. (No, I'm not Florine Mark under an assumed name!) Our leader, Ms. Garnet Blackburn, was, 14 years ago, 52 pounds heavier than she is now. She's a terrific lady who pours huge, healthy doses of genuine enthusiasm, optimism, and assurance into everyone each week.

Oh, by the way, folks — lately, my body's been saying, "All right!!! Finally, I'm getting some respect!" □ parties involved and the child.

(b) The capacity and disposition of the parties involved to give the child love, affection, and guidance and continuation of the educating and raising of the child in its religion or creed, if any.

(c) The capacity and disposition of the parties involved to provide the child with food, clothing, medical care or other remedial care recognized and permitted under the laws of this state in place of medical care, and other material needs.

(d) The length of time the child has lived in a stable, satisfactory environment, and the desirability of maintaining continuity.

(e) The permanence, as a family unit, of the existing or proposed custodial home or homes.

(f) The moral fitness of the parties involved.

(g) The mental and physical health of the parties involved.

(h) The home, school, and community record of the child.

(i) The reasonable preference of the child, if the court deems the child to be of sufficient age to express preference.

(j) The willingness and ability of each of the parents to facilitate and encourage a close and continuing parent-child relationship between the child and the other parent.

(k) Any other factor considered by the court to be relevant to a particular child custody dispute."

In a custody case, the judge will make findings regarding each factor referred to in the above statute. Also, the judge will interview the children or state the reason(s) for not doing so.

1989 Sports Summaries

by Fred Coleman, Romulus Schools Athletic Director

Welcome to the 1989-90 athletic season. It appears as though many changes that have occurred in our department may lead to a very exciting fall season.

New coaches and staffs in both football and girls basketball have created a new energy in practice that surely will spill over onto the fields and court as the season begins.

I hope that the following brief summaries of our fall sports will inspire many of our fans to take time out of their busy schedules and come to a contest or two.

With the level of competition that our schedules produce, it is very difficult to predict undefeated seasons, but what I can predict without question is that the quality of our athletes and coaches will produce teams that our school and community will be excited and proud to follow throughout the 1989 fall season.

Hope to see you there!

New Trainer for Romulus Athletics

Romulus trainer Wendy Crummell had an opportunity to move closer to home for her position and, although we will miss her excellent skills as a trainer and with our athletes, I am truly pleased with her replacement to this essential part of our program.

Wendy's loss brings 23-year-old Tom Cappaert to our training room for the 1989-90 season. Being a graduate of Wyandotte Mt. Carmel High School and a lifelong resident of Southgate gives Tom a solid background on the downriver area.

"I have only been at Romulus High one week, and the cooperation of everyone is unbelievable. Trainers usually are not respected, or even felt to be of any importance in a lot of schools, but, no doubt, the attitude of Romulus Schools is much different," said Tom. "The athletes are outstanding young people to work with, and the coaches have not only welcomed me to the program, but also made me feel as though I am part of the program."

Tom attended Wayne State University for two years before transferring to the University of Charleston to receive his Bachelor of Science in Sports Medicine. Upon graduation, he took a job with the Sports and Preventative Medicine Clinic owned and operated by longtime Romulus resident Jack Moores. Tom works out of the clinic in Riverside Hospital, and is assigned to Romulus High School five days a week.

"What is really nice is how eager our student trainers are to learn and experience this profession," he added. "This year, Rachael Sculley and Heather Seward will be my student assistants, and both are doing an excellent job for our program so far. I guess if I can find a flaw in the Romulus program, it would be the lack of students interested in this aspect of the athletic program. I would hope we could add one or two more student trainers as the year continues."

We are very fortunate to have a quality individual like Tom to head up our training staff. If you get a chance, introduce yourself to this young man, as I am sure he would like to get to know as many of our fans as possible this fall.

Girls Basketball - 1989

No doubt, the loss of Laurie Berlinn will be felt at the beginning of the season by this team, but, under new head coach Tim Cullen, this excellent group of young athletes will surely gel to form an excellent basketball team.

"I like to press and play a hard, aggressive defense," stated first-year coach Cullen, "and, from what I have seen out of this group of young ladies, we should really surprise some teams this year."

Expected to lead the Eagles this season will be seniors Rochelle Hawk, Tara Tyus, and Lynette Cain, as they return to Coach Cullen's team with varsity experience.

"The true test of this team's talent will be the success of our underclassmen," he continued. "Sue Molenda returns at the forward position as a junior, but I am really looking for a lot out of junior twins Kim and Angi Hopewell and sophomore Carmita Brown."

Kim Hopewell recently was named co-captain of the 1989-90 squad, undoubtedly for her leadership skills on and off the court, as well as her hustle and determination.

"Kim is my kind of player," added Cullen. "She hustles 120% of the time and inspires others to do the same."

Also expected to add to the success of the 1989 squad are seniors Malaika Williams and Tracy Carter, as well as junior Kelly Tessim.

"We don't have the dominant player as of yet in our lineup, but we do have a nucleus of fine athletes," Cullen concluded. "I am sure that, as our season goes on, we will become a team that our students, parents, and fans will be excited about seeing play."

The Eagles open at home on Thursday, August 31, against New Boston Huron; game time is 5:30 p.m. Be there — you won't be sorry!

Cross Country - 1989

Coach Dan Henry enters his seventh season as head coach for the cross country program with high hopes for success.

"Each year that I have been here, we find more and more of our athletes becoming interested in this sport," said Coach Henry. "With interest growing in cross country, we are also seeing our skills improve. I really feel that you will see our school record broken by at least one of our girls this season, and maybe one or two of our guys."

Returning to lead the girls cross country program in 1989 are seniors Yvette Mason and Susan Rocha, and sure to make great contributions to the team are juniors Patti Imielowski and Darinda Davis.

Four newcomers to the sport could make the difference for Coach Henry this fall, as all are fine athletes but have little experience at long-distance running. The four are Angela Hollis and three Jennifers: Jennifer Daniel, Jennifer McClure, and Jennifer Trueman.

"All four of these young ladies are fine athletes in other sports," Henry added, "and, if they can convert their athletic talent and desire to this running skill, we could really have a solid team this fall."

The boys team will be led by returners Dennis Tessin, Todd Bennett, Ricky Liberty, Jimmie Catron, Garth Hixon, and Anthony Miller.

"These six guys form a solid nucleus for our team and, if we can just get a little help from some of our new male members, we could do really well this season," he concluded.

Home meets are held at Lower Huron Metro Park beginning at 4 p.m. Hope to see you there!

Cheerleading - 1989

This year, varsity coach Kim Doss embarks upon her first full season as head coach of the cheerleading core.

"These girls are working very hard to improve their skills to not only support our teams on some days, but also to increase our success at competitions this year," Doss stated. "They have attended two camps this summer, and their efforts and work will surely be demonstrated to our fans this fall."

Returning to the squad this year are seniors Becky Bales, Denise Chafins, Beth Bergman, Christine Fortune, and Kim Seabolt. Junior Cyndi Freitag also returns to the varsity squad for Coach Doss to build around.

Newcomers to the squad will be junior Michelle Watts and sophomores Kristin Baker and Barbara Fortune.

Assisting Kim for the second year at the junior varsity coaching position is ex-Romulus High cheerleader Denise Feliciano.

Denise led her young squad to both camps this summer, and also is looking for great things out of her girls.

The junior varsity cheerleaders are sophomores Amy Grishaber, Danyelle Hackney, and Alanna Young, and freshmen Cari Genaw, Susan Kreft, Melanie Lively, Barbara Markowski, Julia Parrish, Christy Raupp, and Georgette Wiginton.

Good luck on your 1989-90 season, ladies!

Football - 1989

I can't help but be pleased with the changes in our program this season. Dan is a very knowledgeable and intense coach, and that energy is being passed on to his staff and especially to the team players. I am really excited about the prospects of our football season.

New coach Dan Henry lives and works in nearby Wayne, but it has taken absolutely no time for Dan to become recognized in our community. Since being named as head coach late last winter, Dan has spent endless hours in an attempt to begin his coaching career at Romulus High on a successful note. His staff is virtually brand-new, with the only returning coach being offensive line coach Dan Stearn. New coaches joining Coach Henry are Dale Evans, Mike Roffi, and Tracy Cline.

"Our coaching staff is doing a tremendous job this year," said Henry. "They have all put in 12- and 13-hour days the last two weeks, plus endless hours since last May preparing themselves for this season, and it seems to be paying off. The players are here on time, every day, ready to work from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., and their excellent work ethic is being led by our staff. Head coaches tend to get a lot of credit and almost all the blame, but, like anything else, a head coach is only as good as the people he works with, and it appears I am blessed with both a great group of assistants and a tremendous group of fine young men."

Enough has been said about our league opponents, with both Pioneer and Ypsilanti returning most of their highly rated teams from last year, and Ann Arbor Huron and Adrian both improving from last season.

"We have a very good football team and great work ethic this season," Dan added, "but, realistically, I'm not going to predict a 9-0 season or a league championship. I think the fans will be very impressed with our talent this season, and I can safely predict we will truly surprise some teams."

Henry continued: "We are thin in numbers this year, which is pretty common when a new coach comes in. The players who are here are very good and, barring some key injuries, we will be in most, if not all, of our games until the end. The kids we have right now are doing everything we ask of them and, if we can stay healthy, I think our football fans will be very pleased with the results."

The Eagles will have a lot of players going on both defense and offense, and that can be critical in the fourth quarter if you're in a tough game, but, when you have good athletes with a strong desire, any obstacle can be overcome.

Leading the way for the 1989 season will be seniors Tony Callockio, Martin Lewis, Virgil Davis, Robert Hoth, Thom Patterson, Larry Perkins, Eric Robinson, and Tim Kosikowski.

Sure to be a leader on defense will be senior Scott Murawski, while it appears that senior Chris Jones, last season's excellent punter, may move in to do the quarterbacking, with Robert Hoth alternating between quarterback and the fullback position.

Also expected to see ball-carrying duties are sophomore Damond Adams and senior Eric Harris, as well as junior speedster Eben Smith. All-South-Central-Conference middle guard, Guam Lee, returns on defense, while Brian Farnan appears to be the surprise of the summer on defense.

"We have two keys to our season," said Coach Henry. "One is injuries, as we are only two people deep in some of our key positions. Two is our kicking game."

"Our center position is being battled for by junior Steve Hutchinson and junior Joe Adkinson, and their development is critical. Last year's 300-pound All-League center, Eddie Miller, is unable to play this season."

"Chris Jones' punting is going to be fine," he continued, "but the surprise may have come from Norway. Nick Kristiansen is an exchange student who wants to kick for us, and, if he ever gets used to the equipment, he has the leg and ability to really give us a big lift in the kicking game."

The Eagles scrimmage on Thursday, August 24, at 6 p.m. at the Junior High field, and will open their season with an away game at 7:30 p.m. Friday, September 1, against Taylor Truman.

The junior varsity football team opens its season at home at 7 p.m. on August 31 against Truman.

There's no doubt about it — football fans are going to want to see this team play. I just wish we had more of our young men who wanted to play this game. If anyone ever wanted to learn the game and have a good time doing it, this is the staff to work with. Hopefully, this may be the beginning of a successful few years in football, and maybe some of our guys who aren't sure will finally choose to get involved and build a football program that this community will truly rally behind.

It may not happen this year, but soon Pioneer and Ypsilanti had better look out because, if working hard and having pride in yourself and your school pays off, then the 1989-90 football season is sure to be the beginning of what may be a big payoff in the very near future.

Go Eagles! Come on out and support this excellent program. I am sure you'll be surprised at what you see! □ submitted by Dan Elwart, D.C.

You may be sure that anyone who has suffered through a full-blown case of sciatica will agree that the pain is one of life's most agonizing experiences. Because there is no other pain quite like it, it is difficult to make a comparison; but the worst toothache imaginable is of about the same magnitude as the devastating pain of acute sciatica.

What Is Sciatica?

Sciatica is a painful inflammation of the sciatic nerve, which supplies the tissues of the thigh, lower leg, and foot. It is most often caused by a pinching of one or more spinal nerve roots between spinal bones (vertebrae) of the lower back.

Causes

There are other causes. A mild case can be brought on by vitamin deficiencies or by arthritic inflammation in the lower spine. Prolonged constipation can build pressure on the nerve and cause the sciatic pain. Occasionally, a tumor may develop near the nerve and press upon it. Sometimes, a so-called herniated or "slipped" disc at the level where the nerve roots emerge in the low back may protrude and press upon the nerve . . . and thereby cause sciatica.

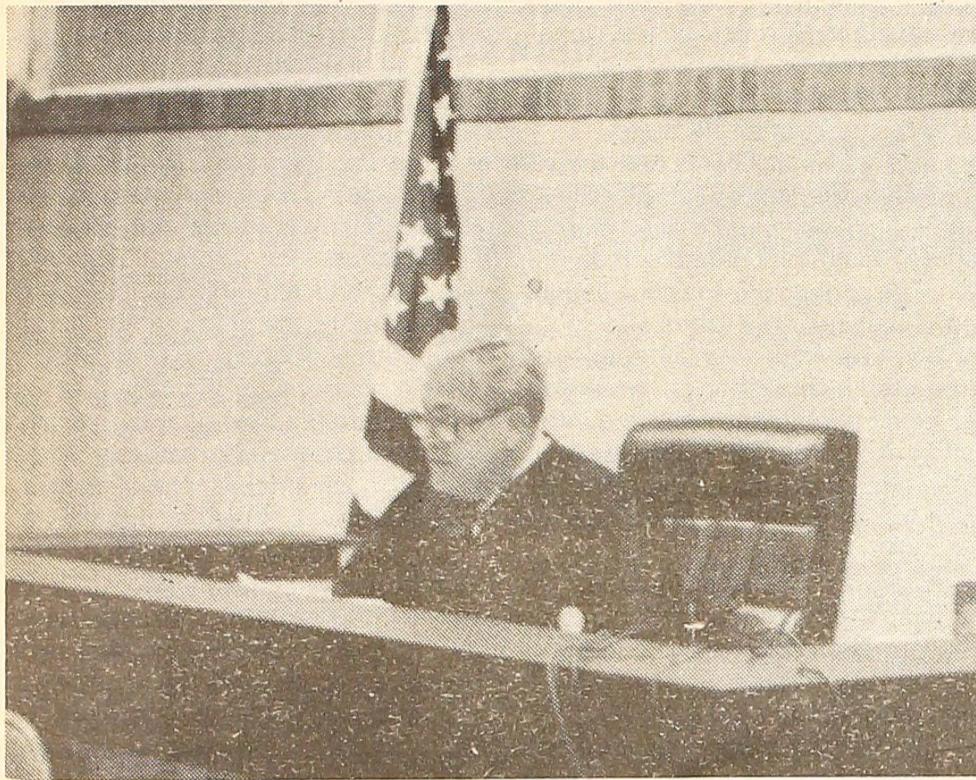

Sciatic Pain

Sciatic pain is tearing and sharp. It shoots down the sciatic nerve and ex-

MILLS, CAMILLI ARRAIGNED

Newly appointed judge William Szlinis set bail at one-half million dollars each.

rehabilitation. Kristen apparently told her, "I'm not doing this for you or anyone else; I'm doing it for myself." She never made it to a rehab program, though; before she had a chance to go, she was set on fire and badly burned. She is still in critical condition.

Detective Poe said, "She doesn't look like a crack addict. She looks like a tiny kid, and you can't describe the injuries she has sustained."

After the incident, both men attempted to change their appearance, and one man, Mills, who had burn marks on his hands, left the State for a short while.

Poe said that the police were given a tip by a resident, who stated that one of the men had claimed to have been the one who set Grauman on fire. Eventually, detectives Snyder and Poe obtained enough evidence, through their own detailed investigation and information supplied to them, to get a warrant for the arrest of Mills and Camilli.

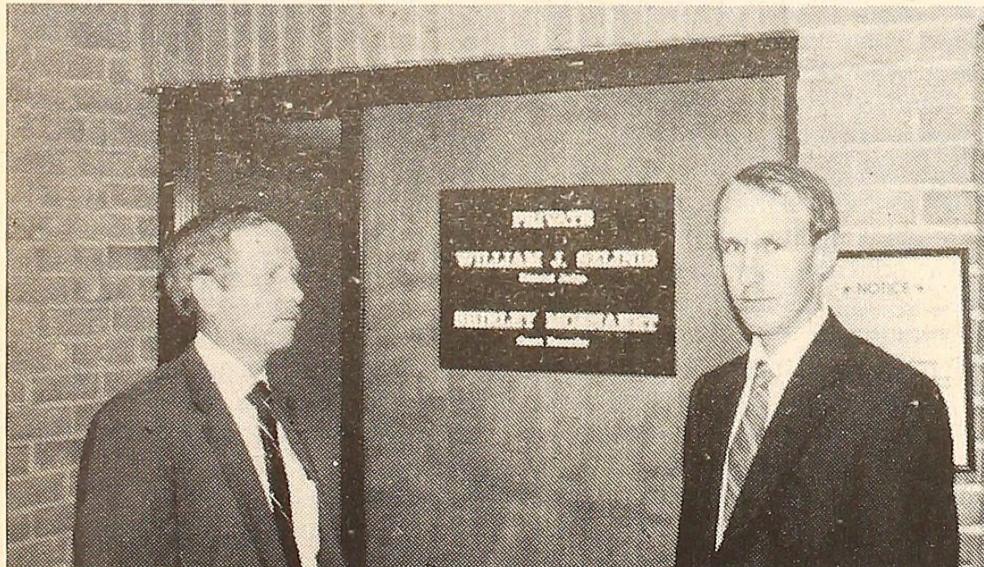

At the arraignment, newly appointed judge William Szlinis read the defendants their rights as they stood before him. Since neither man was represented by legal counsel, the judge entered a plea of "not guilty" for them. Due to the severity of the crime, a cash bond of $500,000 was set for each man. (It seems to me that more judges need to follow this example set by Judge Szlinis.)

Both men are to appear in Circuit Court at 10 a.m. on August 29, and will stand trial if so determined by the courts. Otherwise, by law, they must be released within 180 days.

Mills broke down in tears as the judge read him his rights and set the bond; he was still crying when he left the courtroom. In contrast, Camilli (who has been in jail for the last two weeks awaiting trial on charges of breaking and entering and sexual abuse) appeared to have a somewhat cocky attitude, and left the court with his head erect and shoulders back in a step that resembled a march. It was almost as though he was rather proud of what he had been accused of doing to the young woman.

Both men, if convicted of the attempted murder charges, could face life in prison. □

Romulus police detectives Dan Snyder (left) and Daryl Poe spearheaded the investigation that led to the arrest of Mills and Camilli.

JO JO'S PARTY STORE BOMBED

there was little to no fire damage. Firemen were present at the scene, along with police officers and representatives of the Department of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms.

According to one detective, the type of bomb used is still uncertain, but the preliminary examination of the damage suggests that it was some sort of device filled with black powder. (Black powder has more of a tendency to blow downward and inward, or implode, as opposed to dynamite, which explodes violently outward.) At any rate, regardless of the type of explosive used, everyone involved is lucky to be left alive to talk about it.

Eyewitness accounts of the incident differ: one person stated that two men pulled up in front of the store and threw the bomb inside; another said that two men came into the store, told the store manager that they would get him, and then threw the bomb down and ran. Neither story has been confirmed, as yet, by the police.

Later that day, at about 3 p.m., the house behind Jo Jo's caught on fire. According to the resident, when Detroit Edison pulled the power lines from the store, power surges resulted, causing

Olympic Medal Winners

Romulus seniors have again proven themselves as "good sports" by participating in the Downriver Senior Olympics. For three days, various groups of Romulus residents visited the 1989 host city of Wyandotte to "go for the gold" in 11 of the 23 events offered.

In all, Romulus seniors brought home two gold, two silver, and six bronze medals. Both golds went to Louise Bowen, who won her medals in bowling and golf, and the two silvers were taken by Elsie Robinson and Dave Ries for bowling. Bronze medals went to Dorothy Icenogle (for baking), Mary Sprau (for bowling), and Louise Bowen (for getting closest to the pin in golf); the other three were taken by John Bowen for horseshoes, ping pong, and and the softball distance throw.

Special Birthday Greetings

I would like to send my best wishes to the following Romulus Towers residents with August birthdays: Margaret Gilbert, Donnie Gray, Aria Ibach, Edna Maciejewski, Ida "Tottsie" Matthews, Martha Merdell, Mary Mills, Dorothy Newcom, Ivah Niemi, Ida Pacola, Eula Payne, Mary Petrovsky, Elsie Robinson, and Jean Smith.

Welcome

On behalf of my neighbors at the Towers, I would like to extend a warm welcome to Kathleen Polen, who just moved into #521. We hope that she'll

State Drug War Receives Boost

State and local drug enforcement agencies will be receiving $5 million in Federal funds for drug enforcement teams and prevention programs. About $3.9 million in grants will be divided among 25 drug enforcement and strike teams across the State; $1.1 million will fund drug education and prevention programs designed to help Michigan school children who are at risk of becoming drug users.

School Finance Tax Relief Bills Signed

Five bills, which are tie-barred to the school finance reform proposal that will appear on the November ballot, have been signed into law. If voters approve a school finance reform proposal in November, the new laws would prohibit additional tax abatements after 1989, expand property tax credits for senior citizens and renters, and allow utility payments by low-income families to be tax exempt.

State Funding Approved to Help the Homeless

As part of the Legislature's continuing effort to address the special needs of Michigan's homeless, housing shelters will be receiving $2 million in State aid to attract new Federal and private funding assistance. State housing officials predict the new State aid will attract another $3 million in Federal dollars and private matching grants.

Funding for Minority Health Problems Approved

In an effort to address specific health needs of Michigan's 1.76 million minority residents, the Legislature has appropriated $750,000 for community-based programs that provide health promotion services. This money will support programs aimed at reducing the high infant mortality rate among blacks, as well as efforts to increase the numbers of minorities in health care professions.

Widespread Response to Survey on "Agent Orange"

State health officials have received more than 55,000 completed questionnaires in the ongoing "Agent Orange" study, which is twice the amount expected. Agent Orange was used to destroy trees and vegetation in southeast Asia during the Vietnam War. Information from the questionnaires will help health officials study the health problems of Vietnam War veterans who were exposed to the chemical.

Measure Would Improve Food Safety

The State's agricultural budget for next year includes an additional $3.3 million for new food inspectors and expanded testing. The Department of Agriculture will implement a new food safety initiative to ensure the quality of food produced and consumed in Michigan. More than $2.5 million will be added to the budget for increased food testing and to increase export markets for Michigan's agricultural products.

Solid Waste Hearings Begin

A House solid waste study committee is conducting a series of public hearings designed to collect public comment on effective solid waste reduction and diversion practices. The meetings will be held from 9 a.m. until 12 p.m. on September 6 and 13 at the Michigan Library and Historical Museum in Lansing.

Measure Bans Furloughs

Under a bill recently passed by the Legislature, persons convicted of serious assaultive crimes can no longer be placed in Michigan halfway houses. The measure prohibits State funding of programs that place these prisoners in a residential environment for the last two years of their sentence.

House Panel Probes Steroid Use

A House subcommittee studying the abuse of anabolic steroids recently released a report of its findings and called on lawmakers, educators, and health professionals to wage an aggressive fight against steroid abuse. The panel specifically recommended legislation that would list steroids as a Schedule III controlled substance and impose appropriate penalties for illegal use, sale, and possession.

1989 Michigan Education Trust Forums Scheduled

Several Michigan Education Trust (MET) informational forums have been scheduled for the month of September. At the forums, MET officials will answer questions and distribute applications. Persons interested in attending any of the five scheduled forums may call 1-800-MET-4-KID for further information and to make reservations.

Water Clean-up Loan Program Has Been Proposed

State officials recently detailed a new State program that will expand local water treatment facilities through a low-interest revolving loan program. Under the program, local governments can obtain loans to expand inadequate waste treatment plants. In its first year, the program will be funded by more than $8 million in State funds and $40.5 million in matching Federal dollars.

State Research Grants Awarded

State research grants recently were awarded to 14 Michigan companies and private individuals involved in research and development projects. The grants, awarded through the State Research Fund, will help support scientific research in areas such as manufacturing, botanical genetics, agriculture, and computer science and cancer research.

Fishing Law Creates New Perch Limits

A bill recently signed into law establishes new daily perch limits in certain fishing areas. The new law sets a 50-perch daily limit for perch in the Upper Peninsula and in Great Lakes waters within 10 miles of the Upper Peninsula border. The new law also establishes a daily limit of 100 perch in all other waters of the State.

Community Dispute Grants Announced

Grants totalling $600,000 will be awarded in December for community dispute resolution centers across the State. The centers provide conciliation, mediation, and other forms of dispute resolution services as an alternative to the courts. Nonprofit and governmental agencies interested in receiving information about the grants can write to the Community Dispute Resolution Program, P.O. Box 30048, Lansing, Michigan 48909.

New Law Helps School Retirees

Under a recently enacted law, public school retirees with group health benefits will be eligible to receive dental, optical, and hearing coverage. The new law requires the retirement system to pay 90 percent of the monthly premium and membership or subscription fee.

New Law Simplifies Vehicle Transfers

A House bill recently signed into law will make it easier to transfer ownership of a vehicle when its owner dies. Under the new law, a surviving spouse or heir will no longer have to go to court to obtain a title for vehicles valued at less than $10,000. The previous value of such vehicles could not exceed $1,500.

tends into the hip, the thigh, and the back portion of the leg. It may rip into the ankle and foot. The pain may visit all of these points at once or skip about from point to point. Although fairly constant, the pain sometimes lets up for an hour or so . . . or a day or so. It may be mild one minute, then rage agonizingly out of control the next. Even strong pain-killing drugs bring little or no relief. The sciatica victim is kept completely in the dark as to when the pain will subside or when it will get worse.

Sciatic Warning

Sciatica most often starts with a long period of intermittent, mild low back pain. The pain is often so mild in the beginning that many sufferers cannot recall when it started.

The mild low back pain may be ignored or lightly dismissed for years until, suddenly, the slightest wrong movement turns the seemingly meaningless pain into a violent sciatica. Sudden change in pain may be caused by lifting a weight, by falling, or by making a misstep; or it can be caused by merely bending over.

Because there is a human tendency to let considerable time go by, usually until the pain becomes severe, treatment may be unnecessarily complicated and prolonged. Therefore, it is extremely important that any recurring back problem be corrected by the chiropractor as early as possible.

What Chiropractic Can Do for Sciatica

Misaligned vertebrae rarely correct themselves spontaneously and permanently. The answer lies in the experience, training, and skill of the doctor of chiropractic. The chiropractor of the '80s has many new methods of treatment available for his or her use. With seminars and learning clinics going on constantly, the chiropractor keeps up to date on modern techniques.

The chiropractor locates the misaligned vertebrae by means of x-rays and other diagnostic methods. After aligning these vertebrae, the nerve pressure is released, thus relieving the patient's acute pain. The chiropractor uses no pain-killing drugs, so when pain is relieved, the patient can be sure the doctor is working on the underlying cause and not just the pain symptom. It usually takes time to stabilize the bones in proper position so that the vertebrae no longer pinch nerves, and the underlying cause of the sciatica or other condition has been corrected.

The doctor of chiropractic is the doctor with the specialized equipment coupled with the training, education, and experience to determine which vertebrae are involved in a sciatic condition, to what extent they are involved, and what to do about it. □
